

VIRTUAL WORKSHOP

2022 CNLP Program
Re-Set & Launch

February 8, 2022

Welcome by
Professional Development / CNLP
Committee

Jerry Parmenter, Senior CNLP
Co-Chair

We Formally Kick-Off the Re-Launch of the CNLP Program

- The Pandemic put the CNLP on hold from the lockdown in March 2020 until the close of 2021.
- We placed all CNLP holders in a grace period during this time. All those in good standing at the start of the pandemic are still in good standing—and we now start the clock again.
- We used the pandemic to conduct a Census of all CNLP holders in order to clean-up our database. We continue this work with each person we help.
- Our focus today is to show how to use the NYSNLA website to help you recertify and interface with the program.
- We are also very excited to unveil to you the new CNLP Manual!
- We will also go over important FAQs.

CNLP Re-Set FAQs

What is my renewal deadline?

We have re-set the CNLP renewal deadlines, extending them for an additional year, due to the impact of the pandemic.

12/31/20 Renewal Date - Extended to 12/31/21.

Note: For those still working on meeting this deadline, you have a grace period until 4/30/22. As long as your renewal is completed by then, your certification will remain in good standing.

12/31/21 Renewal Date - Extended to 12/31/22.

12/31/22 Renewal Date - Extended to 12/31/23.

I don't know my deadline. How do I find it out?

If you can find some of your old CNLP paperwork that contains a date, we can work out what your renewal cycle. Feel free to contact the NYSNLA Office and Staff can assist you in determining your renewal deadline.

With the re-launch of the program, all inquiries to the office will be responded to within 1 business day.

When can I start my recertification process?

Right now!

For those who have sent in their paperwork over the last couple of months, the office is now reviewing and will be responding, and sending out exams.

Can I complete paperwork and pay online for recertification?

Yes!

You can find the recertification forms and pay with credit card through the CNLP pages on the NYSNLA website.

Does the new CE Tracker contain credits I previously listed (prior to 2020)?

No. The program's old database was corrupted and information did not transfer over from previous office.

The Program will work with you to ensure you get proper credit.

Who is responsible for maintaining my CNLP credits?

CNLPs are responsible for keeping track of their own credits, on paper or online at nysnla.com—using the new CE Tracker.

What if I cannot log-in to the CNLP Resources on the NYSNLA website?

Don't worry. We will get you in and make sure you are set-up!

Always start with your e-mail address to log-in. If system does not recognize it, please re-set or create a profile.

You can also use the "Bridge Form" to "jumpstart" your profile.

Will I receive CNLP materials?

All CNLP holders will receive a packet containing the following:

- Certificate & ID Card
- CNLP Face Mask
- Static Cling CNLP Decal
- CNLP Counter Card

Supplies have been ordered and we will have the packets out by late March.

I do not do well with virtual materials. Can I get a copy of the manual to study?

Yes. You can order such a copy of this professional development resource for your educational purposes.

Order form can be found on Manual Table of Contents & Introductory pages.

Life is still a little crazy for me—and it's been almost 2 years since I had to think about my CNLP status. How do I get back on track?

Don't worry. We've all been in the same situation. The CNLP Program is committed to its high standards and to help all those who hold the CNLP to continue to be highly successful professionals. We are here to help!

So, what's next?

You will receive a follow-up e-mail containing some additional tips and links to help you get started or help you keep moving. We will also be placing today's recording on the website.

The NYSNLA Office will assist you. All inquiries will be responded to within 1 business day.
